Literacy

This week we have been sharing our half term news. Many thanks to those who sent in lovely photos, collages and drawings of your children during the holidays. We enjoyed sharing them as a class. We supported the children to draw write and to

Phonics

This week's new sounds are: h, b, f, ff and the tricky word is: the.

As many of you asked during parents' evening, here is Ms Drewe's Phonics video which demonstrates how to snowball sounds together... Please

Maths

We have been learning to compare numbers and place them on a number 5 frame so that we can visually compare two sets of numbers and see which number is the biggest. We discussed how sometimes we can tell without counting which group has the most

Next week

Next we week are going to be learning about the festival of Divali and the story of Rama and Sita.

Notice Board/Dates for your diary /Reminders

- Thank you for support and wearing your masks at drop off and collection.
  - PE day is each Thursday.
- Please do let us know if you are not receiving texts and if you change your phone number .

Memories of the week

Home Talk

We have started our new topic of 'Celebrations'. Could you make a list with your child about all the different celebrations that your family take part in over a year? We do realise how difficult this is to talk about during Covid as group celebrations can't take place. Maybe your child could draw and label a picture of their favourite celebration that they have been involved with (a family friend's wedding, the

Challenge of the week

Name writing: please help encourage your child to write their names with a capital letter for their first letter and then the remaining letters all in lowercase.

Can you go on a sounds hunt and find objects that start with b, h or f?

Can children think of any words that end with the ff sound? (fluff, sniff, cliff, huff, puff, off, handcuff)
